With nine Unesco world heritage sites and an archeological history that goes back to the first humans, Ethiopia's ancient (1) – along with its national parks and mountain ranges – have been drawing an increasing number of tourists, after years of being more strongly associated by the west with famine. But its (2) – and vital – tourist industry faces collapse this month, after violent anti-government protests across the country led the Ethiopian government to declare a six-(3) state of emergency. The US and UK are both warning citizens against all but essential (4) there. Tour operators Saga, Cox & Kings and Kuoni are among those (5) trips to the country, citing Foreign Office (FCO) advice to avoid the Amhara and Oromia regions, which have seen growing unrest, mass arrests and police killings of protesters. "The state of emergency and FCO travel advisory have taken a heavy toll on (6)," said Nigel Nicoll of the African Travel and Tourism Association (Atta), who added that Ethiopia had been one of Africa's (7) growing destinations. In 2015, the European Council on Tourism and Trade named Ethiopia the world's best tourist destination, and last week Lonely Planet (8) the country among the best to visit in 2018.

While Luis Fonsi's smash-hit single Despacito has certainly dominated the charts, it (1)(also /have) an effect on international tourism. According to reports by local officials, the track - which shares the record for the longest-running US No1 - has upped interest in Puerto Rico from tourists since its release by almost 50 per cent. Impressively, the mere lyric 'this is how we do it down in Puerto Rico' seems to have been enough (2)(inspire) listeners to explore the (3)(fame) Caribbean island. Online searches for the unincorporated U.S. territory have sky-rocketed in line with the song's success since it (4)(make) available to the public in January. And, (5)(specific); the interest seems targeted around the La Perla district in Old San Juan and Club La Factoría, which feature extensively in the video. Usually, the country (6)(welcome) about four million tourists per year, but it is expected that it (7)(host) about six million in 2018. Interestingly, the Puerto Rican tourist boost comes at a time when the country (8)(declare) bankruptcy earlier this year in order to restructure a US$70billion debt.
